

Rod-and-Reel Carrying Case System

The ReadyRig Ice Professional plus™ ice rod combo and tackle carrying case is loaded with many great convenience features!

Sewn on reflective tape for low light safety.

Two large pockets for carrying extra gear out onto the ice.

Complete with carrying strap and luggage tag for quick identification.

The Ice Professional Plus™ carrying case solves three classic problems endured by everybody who loves ice fishing. The first is protecting today's valuable rods from damage or breakage. The second is protecting reels from bumps and scratches, ice, snow, grit, and dust. Third is the challenge of how to safely carry your rod, reel, and lure without disassembly ready for immediate use.

The ReadyRig Ice Professional Plus combines a durable (600 denier polyester) case with a semi-rigid, high-density polyethylene plastic tube. A large fold of imitation lamb's wool cushions the reel and also provides a protected location for the lure without removing it from the line. Two large side pockets with dual zippers are roomy enough to carry extra jig boxes, GPS unit, flashlight, cell phone and other essential gear! Other features include dual zipper pulls with cord extenders, luggage tag for quick identification and sewn on reflective safety tape.

The ReadyRig Ice Professional Plus case is 38" in length and accommodates all commonly used ice fishing combos. Many people who use the case say it's actually great for storing two or even three fully assembled rigs. The unique shoulder strap design allows anglers to carry several cases bundled together quickly over their shoulder, keeping hands free for other gear, or for operating a snowmobile or ATV when traveling to your favorite ice fishing location.
